

ACADEMIC STANDARDS

A cumulative grade point average of at least 3.0 (on a 4.0 scale) is required for graduation. All graduate courses taken at YSU are included in the grade point average calculation. Good academic standing for graduate students is a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.0 (on a 4.0 scale) for all graduate credit courses taken at YSU.

Satisfactory Academic Progress

Satisfactory academic progress at the graduate level is maintained by satisfying the following criteria:

- A degree-seeking graduate student must maintain a minimum grade point average of 3.0 (on a 4.0 scale). Any required course grade of D or F must be repeated and passed with a grade of C or better.
- A degree-seeking graduate student must successfully meet the requirements, including the time requirement, of all comprehensive examinations of the degree program.
- A degree-seeking graduate student must complete with a passing grade any thesis requirements (or the equivalent) of the degree program.
- A non-degree graduate student must maintain a minimum grade point average of 3.0 (on a 4.0 scale).

Academic Suspension

A graduate student who is not maintaining satisfactory academic progress as determined by the graduate academic program director or department chairperson and graduate dean may be excluded from registration and dropped from the program in which he or she is enrolled. Such action constitutes academic dismissal from Graduate Studies.

After the completion of 9 semester hours, regular and provisionally admitted students who have been designated “not in good standing” at any time in the program will be academically suspended if any subsequent semester GPA is below 3.0.

Students who fail to pass a comprehensive exam after three attempts will be academically suspended.

Any student in non-degree status whose cumulative grade point average drops below the minimum (3.0) will be prohibited from enrolling in further graduate coursework.

Registration for any part of term (term 1 or term 2 for example) or continuous registration during a full-term counts as one semester for these purposes.

A graduate program may utilize additional academic standards to determine satisfactory academic progress and/or standards for academic suspension; however, such standards must be distributed in writing to all graduate students in the program and must be approved by the Associate Provost of Graduate Studies.

Readmission Procedures

- Under exceptional circumstances and with the approval of the Associate Provost of Graduate Studies, a program may readmit a suspended student. In such cases, the normal six-year limitation on coursework shall be applied.
- A graduate student suspended for failing to maintain satisfactory academic progress may appeal their suspensions within one year in writing to the Graduate Admission and Appeals Committee (“the Committee”). The written appeal should include:

1. Information on the circumstances that led to the performance issues.
2. Description as to how circumstances have changed and/or actions the student has taken that will result in improved performance.
3. A success plan that details the courses that need to be taken and/or retaken so that the student’s cumulative GPA when all required degree courses have been completed will be 3.0 (or higher) is required. #Students may request a GPA recalculation for up to three courses, using the GPA recalculation form, after the course(s) have been repeated and a grade has been earned.

Submission of the above information does not guarantee the appeal will be granted.

- A graduate student who has been suspended for academic reasons may reapply to the Graduate Studies in order to begin a new degree program or to pursue studies in non-degree status. A readmitted graduate student is not permitted to register for any courses offered by the program from which he or she was academically suspended.
